Z! In-Home, one of America's largest Supplemental Education Service and in-home tutoring providers, selects oaSES Online to manage their business operations via oaSES's online management software.

Naples,

FL April 22, 2010

— oaSES Online, the premier provider of management software for the Supplemental Education Services (SES) tutoring industry, today announced that Club Z! In-Home Tutoring Services, Inc. recently selected oaSES Online to improve analysis, reporting and management of their day-to-day national tutoring operations via oaSES's tutor management software.

Club Z! will use oaSES Online as an integral part of their company's process to manage staff, tutors, students and tutoring sessions for their SES operation. The platform will give them visibility into their entire operation- nationwide or allow them to filter the information down to a Title 1 specific school if needed.

"In order for our company to succeed and grow in this economy we knew we had to increase operating efficiencies and reduce our costs." said Todd Walden, Executive Director of Club Z! In-Home. "We feel that the functionality and reporting capabilities of the oaSES solution, combined with our deep knowledge of this industry and our tutoring expertise, will enable us to meet corporate-wide transformational goals. We can maintain and grow with minimal disruption."

"When seeking operational management success, Club Z! made a wise decision to find a way to gain visibility into their entire operation, and to develop a common repository of data regardless of location," said Eileen Black, Director of Sales and Marketing, oaSES Online, LLC. "We look forward to working with Club Z! to help them create a common platform that delivers easy to use intuitive tutor software with robust functionality to handle their high expectations."

Once implemented, the oaSES Online solution will house all of the data from all states that Club Z! In-Home operates in. oaSES will give visibility to this consolidated data, at the corporate level. The oaSES delivery team will provide functional and technical best practice knowledge and experience to define key processes and requirements to help Club Z! achieve its business objectives.
